

The employment law team of NJORD Law Firm (Estonia) received high recognition

NJORD Law Firm (Estonia) employment law team has again achieved good rankings in Chambers Europe 2021 edition. Chambers Europe ranks the leading lawyers and law firms across Europe, and their rankings are based on client and peer feedback as well as in-depth analysis by a team of researchers.

NJORD's employment practice is ranked in Band 2. Department head Katrin Sarap assists with advisory matters, including compliance and contracts, and also represents clients in contentious matters. One interviewee singles out her "clear communication," also praising her as efficient. Another source notes: "She was really trying to find the best solution."

Triinu Hiob receives solid praise from market sources, one of whom comments: "I trust her completely." She is particularly renowned for her activity in employment litigation.

NJORD's employment team was noted for the „dynamic employment practice held in high esteem for its noteworthy experience advising companies in various industries on both advisory and litigation matters. Mandates include disputes related to terminations and occupational accidents. Also well placed to assist with compliance and day-to-day issues relating to labour law.“

Sources express their contentment with the team's "detailed and immediate answers" and for "coming up with solutions and holding our hand through certain cases."
